

HAWAIIAN SINGERS MAKE BIG HIT ON BROADWAY

New York Dramatic Papers Give the Finest Kind of a Send-Off.

July Kealoha Paka and his wife, known upon the stage as "Toots" Paka, have sprung into theatrical prominence in New York because of the hit they made in The Young Turk. July Kealoha is a Hawaiian, born in Manoa Valley, and his wife is an American, whom he married three or four years ago. They were in Honolulu last year spending a few months vacation here in order that "Toots" Paka could learn something of the Hawaiian music and dance at first hand. She studied the music carefully, and acquired an intimate knowledge of the hula, and became an accomplished dancer.

When they left Honolulu for New York July's mother, Waiwaka, accompanied them, it being their plan to include her in their Hawaiian trio of quartet, whenever they decided to put on the vaudeville circuit. July had contracts with the Proctor and Keith circuit for most of the winter season.

Recently they joined "The Young Turk" company. They appear in the second act, in the palace of the Sultan, and sing and dance. The audience went wild over their act, and they, and not the musical comedy, became the hit of the New York theater. The Dramatic Mirror, the authority on theatrical matters, says of July and his wife:

"An electrical effect is which a steamer seemed to be plowing through the water was a most effective finale to the first act. An automobile song, accompanied by electrical displays, and a divertissement of Hawaiian music and dancing were the only novelties of the second act. The music on the Hawaiian instruments was the sweetest that could be imagined. This was well worth hearing. A whole evening of such music could be enjoyed without fatigue. A girl, billed as Toots Paka, did a Hawaiian dance to Hawaiian music, which was only a slight variation of the hoochie-koochie. A number of well-dressed 'show' and dancing girls and too many chorus men, such as they were, completed the picture of The Young Turk."

Variety, another theatrical publication says of them:

"What doth it profit a manager if he have a laboriously constructed book, much music, a star of first magnitude, and expensive production and girls until the audience is dizzy—what doth it profit him if a vaudeville act come in toward the end of his piece and take away all the honors?"

"The which interrogation is suggested by witnessing 'The Young Turk' at the New York theater. The Max Rogers piece is there now, but next Monday it gives place to a successor, 'Bright Eyes'."

"To carry out the comparison further the New York audience had to even the sense to stop applauding the Hawaiian trio, who took all the honors of the evening, until they were halfway through with their encore number, the first half being lost to those who were demanding it. Did you ever see a vaudeville audience do such an asinine thing?"

"The Toots Paka Hawaiian Trio (extended into a quartet) take up about fifteen minutes toward the end of the second act, set in the palace of the Turkish Sultan. It fits in nicely there and the odd, melting 'harmonies' on the guitar, together with the bizarre dance of Toots was a revelation of novelty to the audience. The turn was a tumultuous riot in a performance strikingly quiet as to enthusiasm on the part of the spectators. In vaudeville it was an 'act' in musical comedy the specialty goes by the fussy program name of a 'divertissement.' It is one large-sized hit in both places."

MR. AND MRS. IMANISHI WILL BE HERE NEXT WEEK

Former Manager of Yokohama
Specie Bank Branch is on Way to Japan.

Y. Imanishi, at present manager of the Yokohama Specie Bank at New York, and formerly manager of the branch in Honolulu, will pass through Honolulu next week on the Tenny Maru, with Mrs. Imanishi. The Imanishis have not been here for several years and they will undoubtedly be given a royal greeting on arrival by both Japanese and foreign friends, as they were exceedingly popular in local social circles. Mrs. Imanishi has been identified in New York with a number of charitable enterprises. Mrs. Imanishi is practically a Honolulu girl, having been born here. She attended the public schools and was a schoolmate of many of the leading society matrons of the present day. Her command of the English language is not only excellent, but fluent. She is a sister of A. K. Ozawa.

ONE INDICTMENT RETURNED

The territorial grand jury yesterday returned an indictment against Kam Fao Sung, charging him with assault with a weapon imminently and obviously dangerous to life. The weapon was a stick and the victim, it is alleged in the indictment, was C. A. Hering. The assault was committed at Waipahu. Hering, convicted in the district court of larceny in the second degree, has withdrawn his appeal before Judge Whitney.

TABLEAUX TONIGHT OF ANCIENT HAWAII

Tourists Will Have Rare Chance to See Oldtime Customs of Royalty.

Tourists, who wish to gain a little insight into the picturesque life of the ancient Hawaiians, will have an unusual opportunity this evening at the Hawaiian Opera-house, where the Kaahumanu Society will present a large number of historical tableaux dealing with the kings and queens of oldtime Hawaii.

These tableaux have been given many times before, and they are excellent, and according to the older Hawaiians are quite true to the life they picture. Replicas of the ancient feather helmets and cloaks are worn by kings, chiefs and warriors. The tableaux represent many incidents well known in Hawaiian history and are all presented by Hawaiians.

The entertainments given by the society are always well patronized because the numbers are well rendered and the tableaux artistically and truthfully arranged. Those for tonight will include many events in the reign of Kaahumanu, queen regent. The chiefs and chiefesses of her court will appear and the Hawaiian life of a century ago will be graphically portrayed. Boki and Liliha will be seen in living pictures as will Kiwalao and Kamehameha. The following program should tempt many strangers, whose knowledge of Hawaiian customs is vague, to attend the concert. It will be an excellent opportunity for obtaining information that will be of value to them in recounting their experience on Hawaiian soil.

The tableau representing Queen Kaahumanu, the regent, shows her surrounded by the high chiefesses of her court, a chief of lower rank, warriors, servants and commoners. The court of Queen Keopulani, wife of Kamehameha I, is exceedingly picturesque. Her retinue consists of the usual kahili bearers, spittoon-bearer, carrier of the water container, a massage performer, a hair dresser and the person to light the royal pipe, all of whom are chiefs of high rank. The program follows:

Why be bald headed and old looking before your time? Neglect of the hair causes dandruff, and dandruff is the forerunner of falling hair and baldness. The remedy is

Ayer's Hair Vigor

A gentleman residing at Dunedin, N.Z., writes under date Jan. 7, 1907:

"It is with gratitude I write you that I have now a splendid head of hair, both thick and very soft, all owing to my having used your wonderful Hair Vigor. I was almost bald headed before I used the Hair Vigor. I still use it once a day, rubbing it well into the roots of the hair. I used to wear a skull-cap, and I am very grateful to Ayer's Hair Vigor for the improvement it has made in my looks."

Be warned in time. Use Ayer's Hair Vigor and preserve your youth.
